

Indiana's Smart Security Experts

March 22, 2018

Indiana is the perfect place to raise a loving family or start the next innovative business. Ours is a great state to call home; and we would know - we're Hoosiers. As such, we are specially equipped to provide security solutions dedicated to protecting what matters most to Hoosiers, no matter the season.

When it comes to Indiana's seasons, that's no joke. Our state fully experiences spring, summer, fall and winter every year - each presenting unique security concerns. That's why ASI Connect professionals exclusively serve Indiana homes and businesses. We know that year-round safety means being ready for anything.

So, fellow Hoosiers, what can we do for your home or business this year? Read on to find out!

Don't Spring a Leak

The transition from winter to spring is never smooth in Indiana. The varying temperatures we experience from March to May can wreak havoc on our psyches and our buildings - and more specifically, their pipes. Every Hoosier knows that plumbing can freeze and thaw, threatening to burst as the days swing from cold to warm and back again. However, not everyone knows there's an easy way to monitor this issue and prevent potential damages.

Placing temperature and water sensors in your basement, crawlspace or utility closet will do the trick. These tools will alert you via smartphone alerts to dangerous temperature drops and any leaks. The water sensor can even connect to a shutoff valve to stop flooding right away. Imagine the time, money and peace of mind provided by these sensors - and flooding is only one of the numerous calamities a customized smart security system can handle. You could say we're just warming up....

Those (Safe) Summer Nights...

Moving into summer takes on a literal sense in Indiana: sunshine and warmth encourage Hoosiers to move outdoors, move into a new house or office, or move to a destination vacation. All this movement is great, but it can mean leaving spaces unattended for extended periods of time, making them possible targets for burglars. An empty house is an easy house - or so they think.

With an ASI Connect smart security system, your home or business will be ready to ward off potential thieves. Burglars are much less likely to rob an occupied dwelling, but that doesn't mean you need to stay in all summer. Using smart light sensors, the lamps in your home can be switched on and off at random intervals to give the illusion of someone being home - discouraging most criminals.

Don't worry about the more persistent burglars either, they'll be outmatched by one of our cellular alarm systems. These alarms are custom fit to their location and are almost impossible for an intruder to disarm. There are no wires to cut and the system will call our professional security team for help even if the central panel is damaged. Our smart alarm systems will make sure you have a safe and relaxed summer, whether you're out of state or enjoying some local leisure.

Back to School: Smart Home Style

For kids, the arrival of fall means the beginning of a new school year. While the end of summer break is likely to receive moans and groans, starting a new grade often introduces new and exciting forms of independence.

While last year, you made sure someone was home to get the kids off the bus every day, this year they're ready to take care of themselves. You trust them, but you still worry because that's what parents do. Let ASI Connect take those worries away with a range of smart security options designed with families in mind.

For example, installing a keypad to the garage door will let each family member access the house without carrying a key. Plus, with personalized entry codes, your smartphone will alert you to your kids' safe arrival home. Another option is to fit your front door with a smart lock. With a just a few taps, you'll be able to lock or unlock the door directly from your phone or Apple Watch. The kids might be the ones going back to school, but your home can become smarter too.

Hoosier Holidays

Indiana winters can be harshly cold (except the rare 70 degree day we sometimes get in January). So why leave the warmth and comfort of home to go holiday shopping in single digit temperatures when Hoosiers can turn to online shopping instead. Ordering gifts for the holidays has become extremely easy in recent years with the likes of smartphone retail apps and Amazon Prime. Unfortunately, the growing popularity of online shopping has also resulted in the growing popularity of package thievery.

With an ASI Connect security system, you can set your smartphone to send alerts when your smart doorbell is rung. You'll be able to immediately view a livestream of your front porch and talk with the delivery person. To protect your packages, you can raise the garage door or unlock the front door, asking them to place parcels inside, locking up once the delivery has been made - keeping parcels out of the elements and away from thieving hands. Another revolution in online shopping!

It's impossible to list all of our smart security solutions in a single blog post, but our experts will use numerous tools and features to customize the perfect security system for your home or business; one that will protect what matters most to you year-round.
